

SECRET*JOURNAL*OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Wednesday - 27 February 1963

25X1A

25X1A

1.

[redacted] met with Jay Sourwine, of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff, to discuss Sourwine's request that [redacted] be made available to the Subcommittee to testify on matters relating to the visit of sixteen Russian Orthodox priests to the United States. Sourwine indicated his intention to have open hearings and [redacted] saw no problems with this. Ideas as to content were discussed and it was agreed that we would come up with a list of items to be covered and meet again with Sourwine tomorrow to go over this and see if he had any suggestions. (See Memo for the Record for details.)

25X1A

25X1A

25X1

25X1A

2. [redacted] Talked with William Saltonstall, in the office of Senator Leverett Saltonstall, regarding the contract agent case on which the Senator has received correspondence. Mr. Saltonstall showed me a letter from the agent's father-in-law who is the president of the [redacted] and also a letter from a U.S. Tax [redacted]

25X1A
25X1A

[redacted]. In his letter [redacted] asks that arrangements be made for him to talk with Senator Saltonstall and Mr. McCone about this case and the confusion involving a payment to this agent's wife. (See Memo for the Record for full details.)

25X1

3.

[redacted] Tom Keena in Representative Emilio Q. Daddario's office telephoned and asked could he have for the Congressman a copy of Malinovsky's speech of a week or ten days ago. This was dispatched to him.

25X1

4.

[redacted] I received a call from Congressman William C. Cramer (R., Fla.) requesting the names of the four Americans killed in the Cuban invasion, and I advised him that information was not available for release. (See Memorandum for the Record for details.)

25X1

5.

[redacted] I met with Congressman Lindley Beckworth (D., Tex.) in accordance with his request concerning additional correspondence he had received from the military regarding paper disintegrators and advised him that we had responded to his original query on 21 February. Mr. Beckworth requested that we provide him with additional copies of the 21 February response.